General Guinness

words: Seamus Kennedy

1. You've heard of Ge-neral Wel-ling-ton, who won at Wa-ter-loo, But there's a good old
2. He's good old Ge-neral Guin-ness, he's a sol-dier strong and stout. He's found on ev-ery

I-rish-man I'll men-tion un-to you. He comes from dear old Dub-lin, he's a bot-tle-front, and he can't be done with-out! His no-ble name his world-wide fame, de-man we all ap-plaud, For he al-ways finds a cork-screw far more han-dy than a sword.

servethree hear-ty cheers, Hur-rah for Ge-neral Guin-ness of the Dub-lin Boo-zi-liers!

3.

This hale and hearty warrior is worshipped in the ranks,
For he does his task inside the cask, as well as in the tanks.
He bears the brunt on every front, north, south, east, and west,
And he wears about ten million canteen medals on his chest.

He's good old General Guinness, he has won the world's applause.
'Twas him who kept our spirits up in the midst of all our wars.
Who was the first to flirt with Mademoiselle from Armentieres?
Why good old General Guinness of the Dublin Booziliers.

All over bonny Scotland too, the General is seen.
They've given him the freedom of the toon of Aberdeen.
From Inverness to Galashiels, he keeps them warm and bright,
And they love to gather 'round him, och, on every moonlit night.

He's good old General Guinness, he's as strong as Scottish broth,
'Twas him who turned the Firth of Forth into the Firth of Froth.
All Scotsmen dance The Highland Fling and shout when he appears,
Hurrah! for General Guinness of the Dublin Booziliers.
